WHAT ARE WE SEEING AROUND THE WORLD THIS WEEK?

Protein yoghurt goes mainstream.

Eclectic · The Cultured Farmer

Protein dairy had a big week in Australia. Woolworths now has a full protein-yoghurt set, with Muscle Nation, Farmers Union and Chobani all in pouches, and Chobani is coming for the milk-drinks fridge too. Overseas, the leaders are stretching protein into snacks and mixers, and the first signs of 'protein fatigue' are pushing gut health and fibre alongside the protein claim.

YOGHURT AUSTRALIA

Woolworths builds a protein-yoghurt pouch set: Muscle Nation, Farmers Union, Chobani

Muscle Nation launched 150g pouches with 15g protein and no added sugar at $3, exclusive to Woolworths. Farmers Union's Greek Style High Protein pouches now sit right beside them.

Why it matters: The protein-yoghurt shelf is filling fast. The Cultured Farmer needs a clear point of difference (culture, texture, taste) rather than another protein number.

Biscuit Cheesecake Pots: the TikTok hack, ready-made

$3.50 single · $6.00 twin

A ready-to-eat 'yoghurt cheesecake' pot: thick high-protein Greek-style yoghurt set over soaked spiced-biscuit crumb. Spiced Biscuit, Lemon Curd & Anzac, Choc Cookie. 12g+ protein per pot.

Aussies cleared the Greek yoghurt shelves this year making this at home, and Coles admitted demand outran supply. Aldi Nord in Germany already put it in a pot, and nobody has done it here yet.

Pack idea: A clear pot showing the biscuit layers, with a sticker-style 'the one from TikTok' flash, in warm caramel and cream rather than dairy blue.
